

let it
SNOW

What do you need to play in the snow at school?

Snow gear

Teachers will use their Social Detective to know if you are ready for the snow at recess.

Time to practice using your Social Detective...

Ready for the snow?

Ready for the snow?

Ready for the snow?

Ready for the snow?

Ready for the snow?

Ready for the snow?

No snow gear =

no snow fun at school

No gear =

Franklin Expectation:

What lives on the ground
stays on the ground

Expected

behavior at Franklin

Watch snow fall to the ground

Go sledding

Make tracks in the snow

Build a fort with snow

Make

SNOW ANGELS

Pretend you're in the movie Frozen

Leave a message in the snow

Chat with a friend

Write your name out in the snow

Build a snowman

Does throwing snowballs follow Franklin's Core Values?

Be safe...Belong...Work...Respect

A pyramid of snowballs is centered in the background. The snowballs are white and textured, arranged in a triangular shape with one ball at the top, two in the second row, three in the third row, and four in the bottom row. The text is overlaid on the middle of the pyramid.

What can happen if we throw snow at school?

Cuts and bruises

Broken windows

Bumps

Knocked out classmates

Cuts that need stitches

A pyramid of snowballs is centered in the background. The snowballs are white and textured, arranged in a triangular shape with one ball at the top, two in the second row, three in the third row, and four in the bottom row. The text is overlaid on the middle of the pyramid.

Can we throw snow or snowballs at school?

A pyramid of snowballs is centered in the background. The snowballs are white and have a textured, slightly irregular surface. The pyramid is composed of several layers: the top layer has one snowball, the second layer has two, the third layer has three, and the bottom layer has four. The snowballs are arranged in a classic triangular pattern.

Throwing snow and snowballs at school is unexpected.

A pyramid of snowballs is centered in the background. The snowballs are white and textured, arranged in a triangular shape with one ball at the top, two in the second row, three in the third row, and four in the bottom row. The text is overlaid on the middle of the snowballs.

What are the consequences for throwing snow at school?

You will earn an ODR, time in the boring chair or a rule review if you throw snow at school

Dress for the weather, be safe, and have fun in the snow at Franklin!

